

The United States has a government based on democracy. Recognizing that democracy must be based on knowledge of issues, our fore-fathers called for freedom of the press. We must not limit our media access to an even more limited corporations. I have great concern that FCC will vote for a democracy of well-informed citizens.